

Dahlonega Signal.

DAHLONEGA, MAR. 2, 1894.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga., P. O., as second class matter.

As We Look Back.

As we look back along life's dreary way,
We find some barren places and some flowers,
Some days of sadness and some sunny hours.

As we look back.

As we look back some memories give us pain,
Some bring the tears unbidden to our eyes,
And some—Ah! some shall we not always prize.

As we look back.

See Sheriff's sales elsewhere.
Farmers will find ready sale for their produce in Dahlonega now at good prices.

Mr. J. E. Howell will open out business in the old Sisson & Bro. stand in a few days.

If you desire reliable information in Lumpkin county concerning the mines, take the SIGNAL.

We cannot take less than $1.00 per annum for the SIGNAL and proper. Our friends will please take notice of the fact.

There seems to be a boom in the blockading business in the section judging from the way the revenue officers keep on the go.

Chalmers Stow drew another watch last week, making two he has drawn in a month, at a cost of only thirty-five cents. Lucky.

Rice & Harris, of this place, are now manufacturing some new wagons that cannot be excelled for neatness and durability, in Georgia.

Constables must bear in mind that the law allows no cost on a tax if it is found to be collected from the defendant. The state and county pay no costs.

The Marietta & North Georgia road sells next Saturday. Now is the time for some of our citizens who have been wanting a railroad so long to get one.

Mr. W. H. Cook fell from his house Tuesday while removing the snow from the roof and injured himself considerably. Fortunately no bones were broken.

Col. Charters left for New York last Sabbath. His wife accompanied him as far as Gainesville. He goes on business for the Hand Gold Mining Company.

The ordinary informs us that the blanks for pensions of ex-confederate soldiers of this county have been received and requests that all interested parties come in at once.

The mining property known as that of James London, situated near Auraria was sold a few days ago by Mr. James L. Black to Mr. F. G. Denham of Ohio, for the sum of $6,000.

Several young ladies were skating and enjoying themselves on the ice in the adjoining lot to the SIGNAL office Tuesday, and if we are late with this issue this will account for it. Our devil is very fond of the appearance of the fair sex, and when they are about he generally suspends business.

We are informed that Dock Erwin was painfully injured near Mr. Henry Duckets, in the upper portion of this county a few nights ago, while driving a horse attached to a buggy. The animal became frightened, ran away and during the time latched the driver so seriously that he has been in bed ever since.

Elsewhere will be found a letter giving the particulars of certain occurrences referred to in a recent issue of the SIGNAL as having taken place in Mill Creek district. We are always ready to publish any corrections necessary through the columns of this paper. Our informant was a minister and a county officer which led us to believe there was something "in the reports."

HUNDREDS OF WITNESSES.
Stomach diseases, such as indigestion, dyspepsia, etc., are hard to cure with ordinary remedies, but Tyler's Dyspepsia Remedy never fails. Thousands are so who have been cured. If you have a stomach trouble it is your duty to investigate until you find a cure. Send for book of particulars "How to Cure Dyspepsia"—free to Chas. O. Some mining is being done on the Capps lot by Mr. Seppin.

The last due bill for taxes due the council for 1893 was settled off Saturday, and thus ends the due bill question.

All the mails due at Dahlonega have been very irregular this week. Some came in behind time, while others didn't get in at all.

Joseph Chester of Fannin county, was bound over by Com. Baker Thursday of last week for violating the Internal revenue laws.

Mr. A. W. J. Wendale was married on the 22nd ult. to Miss L. Beck, in the lower edge of this county, "Squire Chambers officiating."

Not long ago Mr. Blake of Aniston, was removed as letter carrier in that city and Mr. John Wheelchel, formerly of Dahlonega, was put in his place. Last week Mr. Wheelchel was removed and Blake was reinstated.

Mr. Milligan Quillian, who resided in Dahlonega many years ago, and at one time Clerk of the Superior Court of Lumpkin County, died at his home in Whitfield county on the 24th ult. He is an uncle of the six preachers by the name of Quillian, of the North Georgia Conference. He was 84 years old and had filled many positions of honor and trust. Thus one by one the old ones are passing away.

Some of the citizens in Cass Creek district seem to mean business. Mr. C. M. Moore will soon have his grist mill ready for running, and Mr. Dock Marlow has recently opened out a store in the neighborhood. Should new improvements continue in the future like they have in the past, we will not be surprised to soon hear of a town being laid out, a charter asked for and a mayor and councilmen elected to preside over a town to be heretofore named.

Marshal Helton, Robinson and Allison have been disturbing the manufacturers of mountain dew in Chestate district within the last eight or ten days. They destroyed all two distilleries up there last week, consisting of two coppers well equipped, and sparkling "dew" flavored. But before getting to the place he looked upon the side of the mountain and espied Mr. Harrison, and asked, "Is that you Bill?" The Marshal replied, "Yes!" But he soon saw that it was not Bill, and the moonshiner commenced laying down his wood firing to run. About this time he lit out and Mr. Grizzle pursued him until he ran into a briar patch where he submitted. It proved to be Levi Howell, who was landed safely into Dahlonega, and bound over by the Commissioner.

Guaranteed Cure.
We announce our patented Druggist to sell Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, upon this condition. If you are afflicted with a Cough, Cold or any Lung, Throat or Chest trouble, and will use this remedy as directed, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We would not make this offer until you find a cure. Send for book of particulars "How to Cure Dyspepsia"—free to Chas. O. Tyler, Druggist, Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 16, 1894.

The boys had no mercy on the rabbits this week, but tried to catch them all.

The weather was most too severe Monday for many of the teamsters belonging to the Gainesville and Dahlonega wagon train to venture out.

Many of our citizens were caught short of wood during the snow, and as soon as wood haulers could run their wagons they got good prices for the fuel.

Mr. Benjamin Gurley, a rising young merchant of Murphy, N. C., and brother to the post master at Dahlonega, spent a few days in our quiet mountain town this week.

The office mouse, which has been such a frequent visitor, and kept the paste pot so clean for years, passed in its "chicks" during the cold snap, and now the devil has to make paste only once every two weeks.

Snow hailing was indulged in to a late hour Saturday night. Every one passing along the streets received the attention of the boys, which came near causing a row or two and the drawing of concealed weapons.

The SIGNAL is supported by all kinds of citizens both white and black, male and female, and we find one man's dollar just as good as another, notwithstanding they may not be able to drink fine wine and put on outside appearances.

We are expecting our Chinese printing press in every day which will enable us to print the SIGNAL in four different languages. It will have a large steam fan attached to it which will produce wind going and coming. This will keep everybody in town cool and help to harmonize all our citizens.

The Nugget of gold mentioned in the SIGNAL last week as being picked up by the little girl seven years of age weighed seven pennyweights and eleven grains. It was discovered in the garden of Mrs. Prices, being the property of Mr. C. D. Griggs now residing in Florida. Two little girls, the daughter of John Adams and the other Lewis Prices, were together at the time picking up and finding. This will keep everybody in town cool and help to harmonize all our citizens.

Win. Nichols, who was carried from this county to Hall, charged with taking a bolt of cloth from Mr. Huntington's store in Gainesville, is back at home again. The County Court was in session and his case received prompt attention. It cost him including lawyer fee, $50. His father mortgaged his farm for money to pay him the bill and gave him the mortgage and the father of the other diffident with him. So, we don't know how they will make it.

Mr. Strouder, who has been here for several days looking after the interest of the Hand Gold Mining Co. left for his home in Milwaukee last Sunday. While here he purchased all the stock owned by Cols. Price and Charters in the Company for Messrs. Wahl Bros. and now these gentlemen own most of the stock in the Hand Gold Mining Co., and the rest of the company has no power to do anything unless it suits the two brothers. The company owns in this county 3,957 acres of good mining property and several large stamp mills but everything is closed down, and when operations will be resumed no one knows. It is not because these mines are not rich, but because these gentlemen are rich and do not need any more wealth. Mr. Strouder intimated that there was too much prejudice against them here for them to carry on operations now and that they owned the property and did not know when they would commence work again. But the truth is there was a scheme or two proposed and this closing out of business is a kind of punishment put on the people because it was told. Thank goodness, there is always some way provided, and the people lived here long before Wahl Bros. got any foothold in Lumpkin county.

Mr. A. G. Wimpy offers a reward for his watch which was stolen about a month ago. See his notice elsewhere.

His predictions for March will be found on the first page. If they take place this month will be a bad time for gardening.

Messrs. Jenkins, Roberts and Beck, who are working the gold mine in the street near this office, have gone down on the vein about fifteen feet. It is one and a half foot thick and gold can be seen in the ore with the natural eye.

There is nothing like being industrious and economic. One of the present town councilmen runs a store and borrows the SIGNAL from the widow of an ex-confederate soldier to read. Signs of progress and prosperity greet us on every hand.

Two months of '94 have passed and only 50 cents have been collected for the impounding of town dogs, and that was collected from a family where the wife is paralyzed and the husband has a broken leg, and neither can walk a step without the use of their crutches. Do you favor such a law?

Messrs. Albers and Patterson are engaged in mining on the Grifley lot, owned by John Fields situated only a few miles from town on the Chestate river. They have a gain in position and are tearing up the ground with much ease and great rapidity. This is one of the richest lots in the gold belt and we feel confident that they will be well rewarded for their labors.

Several students have left for their homes within the past few days for the purpose of teaching schools and making a crop. None seem to be dissatisfied with the college, its able president or any of the learned professors, but all depart with the intention of returning in the fall. They are all nice young men and we wish them success in any kind of business they may choose and follow.

It is a little singular that some people will furnish stock and work for mail sub-contractors for nothing. The Ellijay daily line missed twice last week and failed again on Monday, and how many more times since then we do not know. Men, before they enter into these contracts should consider the matter well, for it is an impossibility to carry them to contract, to contract and make a support, and what is the use of men killing themselves and stock and making nothing? Turn the lines over to the original contractors while they are keeping back your salary for months, and let them try it awhile, and at the end of four years they will be so sick of the mail business that they will not think of bidding so low again.

Win. Nichols, who was carried from this county to Hall, charged with taking a bolt of cloth from Mr. Huntington's store in Gainesville, is back at home again. The County Court was in session and his case received prompt attention. It cost him including lawyer fee, $50. His father mortgaged his farm for money to pay him the bill and gave him the mortgage and the father of the other diffident with him. So, we don't know how they will make it.

"Squire" Walden, who resides near the foot of the Blue Ridge, came in last Saturday and took in the town. He was overladen with mountain dew and chink full of it. The "Squire", among other things, drew his knife on merchant Jones, struck a little negro's nose with his fat and knocked a long piece of molting off of Mr. Rider's store house. This entitled him to a pass into the calaboose and was escorted to the entrance by Marshal Anderson. After the key was turned on him the "candidate" amused himself breaking the water pitcher and such other things that came under his observation. He was allowed to give bond later on in the evening and let go until to-day at which time he will have to pay the "fiddler."

Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured many a distressing skin disease, and we urge all who suffer from this disease to give this medicine a trial.

We have heard of but one early gardener. He planted his onions Saturday while it was snowing.

It commenced snowing and sleeting here Saturday afternoon and continued off and on until Sunday night and reached a depth of from four to six inches.

Charlie Meaders, son of L. Q. Meaders of this place, was severely hurt on the arm in Gainesville, a few nights ago by a woman. Three women entered the inside halls of the Hall county jail now on account of the affair.

An old lady was kept out of the use of $60 two weeks a short time ago by not taking the SIGNAL. When notice was given a short time ago by the ordinary for all widow women to come in and have their claims made out, this poor woman lived several miles out in the country and did not find it out in two weeks.

We understand that there is a movement on foot now to get up a petition asking the council to have the geese kept off. We had one set of "goose" councilmen here some years ago but it didn't last long. We believe the present body like to rest their heads on a feathered bed too well to have the poor old women's geese molested.

We are glad to note that Mr. John Marr, who resides near Porter Springs, is recovering from the fever. All the rest of his family, seven in number, have been down with the same disease. They have been attended by Dr. Jones, of this place. This is remarkable, for a physician to have this number of cases in one family and not lose a single patient.

Two small boys by the name of Roberts and Garret, had four and a half tons of waste ore hauled and beat at the Lawrence mill last Friday from a mining lot which produced twenty-one pennyweights and eleven grains. This ore was selected from a large pile which had been wheeled out of a tunnel during a rich discovery some years ago. It took them a couple of days, and after paying for the hauling, beating and setting the rent the boys cleared over $6.25 apiece. This is a good piece of property and if the owner only had a nail on the lot there is no telling how much gold could be made there.

"Squire" Walden, who resides near the foot of the Blue Ridge, came in last Saturday and took in the town. He was overladen with mountain dew and chink full of it. The "Squire", among other things, drew his knife on merchant Jones, struck a little negro's nose with his fat and knocked a long piece of molting off of Mr. Rider's store house. This entitled him to a pass into the calaboose and was escorted to the entrance by Marshal Anderson. The gold mining property sold last week near Siloam Springs in this county, brought $2,500. The Davis got $2,000 and Col. Price $500. This is very cheap for such valuable property as this, but it is much better for the county for the owners to let their property go at reasonable prices and invite people into this section, than to hold their lands at fancy prices and drive them further from us. And another thing, when a man desires to invest in the mining or any other business, he does not like to spend all the money he's got in order to become the possessor of the same, for what he does thus he has got nothing to operate with, and such actions neither benefits himself nor the country.

Mr. H. A. Butler, an energetic tanner doing business at Jay, was in Dahlonega Tuesday and reported everything flourishing in the vicinity where he lives. Mr. Butler has just finished up a contract of about $1,000 worth of leather for Capt. F. W. Hall, at Dahlonega. Mr. Butler is as industrious as a bee and always keeps busy turning out leather at his tannery. He has been located at Jay thirteen years and has finished in the neighborhood of $30,000 worth of leather, which has been shipped to Boston, New York and other large cities. Such industries as this are of great benefit to our county and we wish we had more just such enterprising men as this gentleman. Mr. Butler prefers a partner and some good enterprising man with a small capital, desiring to invest in a good paying business would do well to address this gentleman at his place of business.

Explanatory.
Mr. Editor.—The SIGNAL of the 16th ult., was a little hard on Mill Creek district. You were misinformed in regard to the cause of the crime null and void. The long null and void of that matter is, that last summer during the protracted meeting at Mill Creek Church, a certain member became offended at this party charged with the crime. Not long afterwards he started the report—it was thoroughly sifted at crime was proven, but if the testimony of the offended member is good, the actions of the man charged with the crime are rather suspicious of crime to a man with a beam in his own eye. My information is that both these members were excluded from the church for a flat contradiction which seems to be a flat offense to the Baptist Church. There is nothing in the case and the county will not be put to the expense of trying it.

In another item you say you are informed that a certain bill levied on property two weeks before he had made and filed his bond, and the property was sold recently. In another item you say you brought to recover this same property, that this same bill levied upon all of which is in Mill Creek. It is true that our bill is not as full of legal lore as your informant, but he tracks the law just the same. We had no bill here and he was sworn in to do the work, and turned over the papers to our Sheriff. However, your informant almost scared this same bill to death, telling him all of the penalties he had made himself subject to by serving the papers. You see the bill had been working for your humble scribe and he came at once to see me about the matter and told me of his woes. After learning who had expounded the law to him I said, "Well, my dear sir, that fellow knows all the law (if). His judgment never has been swayed (if) and he has given a great deal of legal counsel to this section, but don't be uneasy, I'll foot the bills. It is needless to say that he went home happy.

In conclusion I will say, we have no objection to being informed out this way but we like to be shown up truthfully. I know we are liable to err, but we mean well. It is true, we have some people in this neighborhood who glory in strife and had rather tear down society than to build it up, who have no interest in the welfare of the community and make themselves a stumbling block to those who are trying to live an exemplary life. But keep your eye on Mill Creek, we will not always be laughing stock for the rest of the county.

Dear Sirs:—I sold three bottles of Dr. P. P., large size yesterday, and one bottle small size to-day. The Dr. P. P. cured my wife of rheumatism winter before last. It came back on her the past winter and a half bottle, $1.00 size relieved her again, and she has not had a symptom since.

I sold a bottle of Dr. P. P. to a friend of mine, a sick turkey, and his wife, a sick child, that was in bed being sick, and the little fellow coughed over like he was dead, but next morning was up following and well. Yours respectfully,
J. N. McLELLY.

MR. NESBITT'S REPORT.

What the Commissioner Has to Say to Georgia Farmers for the Month of February, 1894.

PLANS FOR THE COMING YEAR.

Experiments in Farming, Rotation and Rotation, Success in Cotton Planting, Fertilizers, Orchard and Garden.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, ATLANTA, FEB. 10, 1894.

ROTATION OF CROPS.

The value of the rotation of crops is emphatically recognized but would like to know the general rules or principal points upon which rotation rests.

H. A. J. Hunter county. Nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash are the important elements of plant food. They are all taken from the soil in various quantities and proportions. One crop will demand large quantities of nitrogen, another phosphoric acid and potash.

From the various matters presenting themselves it is easily seen that even general principles may be varied according to the nature of the soil and the crops to be raised. A single system of rotation is not adapted to, or the best for every locality and experiment should demonstrate the most successful in this important study as well as in other questions which present themselves to the farmer.

In planning judicious rotation it is well to follow or alternate broad leaved plants, such as clover, and peas with narrow leaved cereals, such as wheat, rye and oats. To let perpendicular plants and horizontal root plants alternate with those that are least exhaustive. A good three years' rotation is corn, wheat, clover, or with cotton, clover or peas. Cotton, wheat, and peas will however, make an excellent crop after clover or peas.

PEACH BORER. Please inform me how to rid my peach-trees of borers. I am aware of the method of removing them with the knife, but do not know if there is any application I can apply this spring and winter to apply it.

L. N. T., Fort Valley. The winged insect that deposits the eggs from which the borer commonly appears in the orchard soon after the leaves begin to put forth. The female deposits from 50 to 100 eggs. One or two on each tree on the base of the trunk and as the grub of last year is in the soil and the borers rapidly increase. The following liquid preparations have been found very effective. They should be applied with a stiff brush, thoroughly from 10 inches above the ground to four below the surface. Soft soap, 10 gallons; corrosive sublimate, 1-1/4 ounces, alcohol, 1 pint. Dissolve the sublimate in the alcohol and mix thoroughly with the soap. The mixture should not be used in a quantity large enough to injure the tree. It is very poisonous and care should be taken in having it in a house. The mixture should be applied immediately after the first fly appears and once every week thereafter until they disappear. The weak grub is killed at the first mouthful of the mixture by the sublimate and the remedy is excellent.

The other application is to mix 10 gallons of sour milk and 10 pounds of Portland cement. The cement forms a coating through which the grubs cannot penetrate. It should be applied every two or three weeks, otherwise it will crack from the growth of the tree and the grubs may enter.

When is a good time to compost? Please give me a formula for corn and cotton. L. C. Warren county. December and January are good months to compost, though you can compost later. The following formula will answer for both corn and cotton: Stable manure, 650 pounds; cotton seed, 650 pounds; acid phosphate 700 pounds.

In mixing I have the ingredients well watered and worked with a hoe many times and then in the main pile, which I fix up in a layer of six inches, outside the water.

I thank you for the valuable information.

Miss Malinda Barker and Mr. John Whitmore were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony on last Wednesday evening, at the residence of Mr. John Barker, by Judge Thomas. May they live long and prosper.

But few of our attorneys attended Dawsonville court which was in session only a few days this week. Judge Grobater transacted business with a rush and the court expenses were very light. Disbarrow, who was charged with assaulting a little girl, had his case continued on account of the absence of a witness who was reported sick.

Robt. Satterfield swore a warrant out last Monday for Jess and Sam Elrod charging them with attempting or threatening to shoot him a few days ago. They were arrested by Sheriff Brooksher and brought before Squire Norton Tuesday, but as the evidence in the opinion of the Justice, was not sufficient to convict, they were released.

Messrs. Jenkins, Beck, and Roberts, who discovered and were working the mine in one of the streets of Dahlonega, have disposed of their lease to Robert Howell and T. F. Jackson. They are now taking out ore and will have it hauled to the Lawrence mine, which is but a short distance from the mine, and crushed. It still shows up well and will continue to pay handsome profits.

The town council met in regular session last Monday afternoon and fixed the first half year of the street tax for 1894 $1.50. The members think now that the last half will be reduced below this amount, probably making the tax full for the year between two and three dollars. No other business was transacted of importance. The reduction of street tax will be heartily endorsed by the poor people, as they have been up the road.

Old aunt Parilee Hamilton, colored, who we thought was just about ready to be carried on that long journey from whence no traveler returns, was wedded to Geo. H. Tutenay night, and is now stepping around as spry as a girl of only sweet sixteen.

Notwithstanding the month of February was very unfavorable for mining, there was quite a lot of the precious metal taken out by the deposit miners and those working on a small scale about Dahlonega. Two firms alone, Messrs. Jones & Brooksher and J. F. Moore, purchased a little more than six hundred pennyweights. The gold made by the companies is being direct to the mints, which amounts to thousands of pennyweights per month. This mention is merely made to give people an idea of the richness of the old red hills and hollows of Lumpkin county.

Tennyson on Spring. We have the word Alfred Tennyson for it that in the spring the young man's fancies lightly turn to thoughts of love. It is singular that the great laureate omitted to mention the fact that it is in the spring that a considerable portion of the human race turns to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Probably nothing but the difficulty of finding a good rhyme for that inviolable remedy deterred him. Certain it is that the old-time domestic remedy is generally discarded in favor of the modern. Quite a number of the old Confederate soldiers were in town first of the week having their pension papers fixed up. Time is being taken to them, and their new forms in the course of a few more years will pass out of existence and no one will be left to tell of their sufferings while at the front fighting for what they believed to be right.

It is reported that some of the mines recently suspended will soon commence operation again.

Monday was a fine day for gardening, and our citizens were quite busy planting seeds for an early crop.

Mr. John W. Satterfield, Corner of Lumpkin county, has been a subscriber to the SIGNAL for more than forty years.

Commissioner Nesbitt has been sending out packages of seed, and many of our citizens have been the recipients, all of whom appreciate the compliment very much.

Miss Collie Rice, who resides a few miles of Dahlonega, has just completed a beautiful quilt containing 6,300 pieces. Twelve hundred yards of thread were used in making it.

A man who had been serving out a sentence in Fulton county jail for blockading, returned home a few days ago and says it is all a mistake about him. Lane formerly of this county, being shot recently, captured and confined in Fulton county jail.

Uncle Johnnie Evans, who resides in Wahoo district, was stricken with paralysis some months ago, but he has been able to visit town Wednesday and has his name placed on our subscription book. This good man has long since reached the age of three score years and ten, and his head is growing gray, but he never belonged to the aristocratic variety, and no better man resides in Lumpkin county to-day.

We learn that a certain miner lost his job last week because he didn't do his trading at the store of the one who owned the property upon which he had been working. The laborer informed us that the reason he didn't trade at this store was because he could get certain articles at other places for less money. Never mind, maybe there will be a better day coming for all those who work in the ley water or beneath the scorching rays of a summer's sun, yet.

Even revenue officers are sometimes fooled. Marshal Harbison, not long ago, received a message from across the Blue Ridge to come posthaste for a blockade distillery had been discovered. He left Dahlonega a short while before sun down and after riding through the cold for several hours, reached the revenue house about two o'clock the next morning before day. The party was awoken and before the elapse of many moments the march commenced on foot over hills, through dense thickets and across deep gulches. After traveling a distance of two miles the place was reached. Everything was dark and no one could be heard. A match was struck and what do you suppose was to be seen? A little four gallon pot placed in a furnace.

Sheriff Brooksher made a business trip down in Dawson county, latter part of last week. The object of his visit was to look after Melvin and Robert Parks who were found guilty at the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court for disturbing a public school in this county. Small fines were placed on them, which were unsettled up to last week, and the sheriff and Will Crisson went down to look for the boys and endeavor to have a settlement. They were found and arrested while plowing in the field. All went up to the house for a settlement. While making agreeable arrangements with the sheriff Melvin went into a little room to get some change.

My father, who is about 100 years old, was the late Rev. David Moore, who lived to be eighty-six years old received them, and a few days ago they were given to Freddie Lee, the youngest son of Virgil Moore, now just three years of age. They certainly have been in use about two hundred years.

Miss Fannie Rice has been on the sick list several days during the week, but is improving.

The contractors of the Gainesville & Dahlonega mail line have thrown up the sponge and turned over the line. The mail is being carried now by Charlie Meaders until the original contractor makes permanent arrangements.

The clerk has a brand new wagon and the sheriff has purchased a cane mill. They will form a combination and have enough syrup made next season to supply the young people with all the syrup needed to run the candy pullings during the coming winter.

Candidates are becoming more familiar with the people, but some of them appear like they were reeling on a thin piece of ice. They will get upon the fence after awhile and when they ascertain the strong party they will jump at it and want to be rescued.

It seems that the mining boom has struck in the neighborhood of Auraria. Many hands are now engaged in search of the yellow metal, which is being found in paying quantities, and the best of it is the companies are paying the laborers cash for their services. This brings about happiness around the poor man's fireside.

The daily mail from Gainesville didn't get in until late Tuesday evening on account of an accident happening to the contractor, Mr. W. Barrett, five miles this side of Gainesville. While driving down a hill some piece of the harness broke, causing the mule to run away demolishing the buggy and dislocating the right arm of Mr. Barrett. Sam Goodluck, colored, was with Mr. Barrett at the time but his injuries were very slight. The injured man was carried to a house near by and a physician was summoned from Gainesville to attend to his wants.

The county board of education of Lumpkin have been holding their meetings on Saturdays instead of Tuesdays as the law directs, which has been pronounced to be illegal. An attorney remarked the other day that anything done by the board on different days as prescribed by law would be just as illegal as a sheriff's sale on any day besides the first Tuesday in each month. The law reads as follows: "That it shall be the duty of the County Board of Education to hold regular sessions on the first Tuesday of the month, after selecting their election, and each three months thereafter, at the court house of the county for the transaction of business pertaining to the public schools, with power to adjourn from time to time," etc. We merely call attention to this matter so the board can investigate it, and if they are not right to get so. It may avail trouble at some future time.

A Family Relic. We were shown last Monday a pair of shears that had once belonged to the great grand father of John Morris in Germany.

JOHN MORRIS, OFFICE OF J. N. McLEOD, Druggist, Ocala, Fla., April 20, 1893. DEAR SIR:—I sold three bottles of P. P. P. large size yesterday, and one small size to-day.

The P. P. P. cured my wife of rheumatism before last. It came back on her the past winter and a half bottle, $1.00 size relieved her again, and she has not had a symptom since.

I sold a bottle of P. P. P. to a friend of mine, one of his turkeys, a small one took sick, and his wife gave it a teaspoonful, that was in the evening, and the little fellow turned over like he was dead, but next morning was up howling and well.

Yours respectfully, J. N. McLEOD. SAVANNAH, GA., March 17, 1893. DEAR SIR:—I have suffered from rheumatism for a long time, and did not find a cure until I found P. P. P. which completely cured me.

Yours truly, ELIZA F. JONES. 16 Orange St., Savannah, Ga., March 2.

MR. NESBITT'S REPORT.

What the Commissioner Has to Say to Georgia Farmers for the Month of February, 1904.

PLANS FOR THE COING YEAR.

Experiments in Farming, Renovation and Rotation, Success in Cotton Planting, Fertilizers, Orchard and Garden.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,
ATLANTA, GA., 1904.

ROTATION OF CROPS.

The value of this crop is emphatically recognized but would like to know the general order or principal upon which rotation rests.

H. A. P. Sumter county.

Nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash are the important elements of plant food.
They are all taken from the soil in varied quantities and proportions. One crop will demand large quantities of nitrogen, another phosphoric acid is the dominant, while a third demands more potash. Again there are crops such as the legume which require nitrogen while supplying the soil with organic matter so necessary to a high state of fertility and fertilization. While the general rule is applicable, that crops demanding the same plant food should not follow, still other considerations enter into the rotation.

We find, for example, that potatoes living on certain plants will be increased by a rotation of these crops necessitating a change to such a crop as upon which they will not feed. Again the corn which is also a soil improver, and preventing the land from becoming foul with grass seed and rendering proper culture more difficult must be borne in mind. The method by which the roots of the plant also has an important bearing on all questions of rotation.

From the varied matters presenting themselves it is easily seen that even general principles may be varied such as while one crop may consume the same element in about the same proportion it may be in such less quantity and by roots of so different a character as to render the rotation entirely proper. A single system of rotation is not adapted to the best for every instance and experiment should demonstrate the most successful in this important study as well as in other questions which present themselves to the farmer.

In planning rotations rotation it is well to follow or alternate root leave plants, such as clover, and peas with narrow leaved cereals, such as wheat, rye and oats. To let perpendicular root plants and horizontal root plants succeed each other. To follow extensive plants with those that are less extensive. A good time "rest" rotation is corn, wheat, clover, or with cotton, clover or peas. Cotton, wheat, wheat will however, make an excellent crop after clover or peas.

PEACH TREES.

Please inform me how to fill my peach trees of bore. I am aware of the method of watering them with the knife, but want to know if there is any application I can apply this spring and winter to apply it.

J. N. T. Fort Valley.

The winged insect that deposits the eggs from which the borers usually appear in the orchard soon after the leaves begin to put forth. The female deposits from 20 to 100 eggs. One or two on each tree on the leaves of the trunk and as the grub of last year is the moth of this the borers rapidly increase.
The following liquid preparations have been found very effective. They should be applied with a stiff brush, thoroughly from 15 inches above the ground to four below the surface. Soft soap, 10 gallons; corrosive sublimate, 1-14 ounces, alcohol, 1 pint. Dissolve the sublimate in the alcohol and mix thoroughly with the soap. The sublimate should not be used in a quantity large enough to injure the tree. It is very poisonous and care should be taken in handling it in a bottle. The mixture should be applied immediately after the first fly appears and every two weeks thereafter until they disappear. The weak grub is killed at the first month of the mixture by the sublimate and the remedy is excellent.

The other application is to mix 10 gallons of corn milk and 10 pounds of Portland cement. The cement forms a coating through which the grubs cannot penetrate. It should be applied every two or three weeks, otherwise it will crack from the growth of the tree and the grubs may enter.

FORMULA FOR CORN-ROTT.
When is a good time to compost?
Please give me a formula for corn and cotton.
A. L. C. Watson, General Agent, Union, Missouri. For cure of the Kidneys, Bladder, Prostate, etc., see the Bottle. It is the only remedy that will cure all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Prostate, etc. It is the only remedy that is guaranteed to cure.
It is the only remedy that is sold by all druggists.

December and January are good months to compost, though you can compost later. The following formula will answer for both corn and cotton: Stable manure, 600 pounds; cotton seed, 650 pounds; acid phosphate 700 pounds.
In mixing I have the ingredients well watered and worked with great small manure, and then thrown on the main pile, which I fix up in conical shape and then put on a layer of dirt from four to six inches, and turning the work.

COMPOSTS.
I thank you for the valued infor-ation so kindly given, permit me to trouble you this once more, for it is a question in which I am very much interested.

I have about 1,500 pounds of cotton seed and some good stable manure which I am anxious to mix with acid phosphate
I was anxious to mix with acid phosphate to allow sufficient decomposition, but I see from your advice that I am a little late for January is gone, so I will go to the work immediately. Now I would like to know whether I should mix the seed with water before putting it in the heap caused by decomposition and fermentation becomes too great, and how and I judge when heat is great enough to produce injury or loss in taking place, is a rod and by drawing it out judiciously the heat of the rod, but how warm should it be to water.

A. L. C. Warrenton.

We do not think that you will be too late with your compost and that sufficient decomposition will take place to obtain good results. First gang only results when the heap or any part of it becomes perfectly dry. Its effect is to prevent the action of the ammonia and while we are unable to give you any certain rule as to the temperature can only say that in the case of the ammonia the important effect, and if the pile is kept damp no ammonia will escape. A simple chemical test to ascertain whether any loss is taking place is to hold near the manure a small rod that has been touched or dipped in nitrate acid. If a white vapor arises the ammonia is escaping. No loss of other elements of the plant food takes place except by leaching.

REDUCING PHOSPHATES.
I note in report of United States department of agriculture Vol. V. No. 10 pages 228 and 229, a method for the reduction of phosphates and for the preparation of commercial fertilizers from the same which is represented as being simple and cheaper than the plan now in use of reduction of sulphuric acid. This new reduction is by carbonic acid. This process seems to be applicable to phosphates rich in lime or carbonate of lime. You may be aware that some of the Georgia contain a great deal of this lime phosphate rock. We are not sure for any large quantities. Also on adjoining farms. This new method is also recommended for the preparation of strong manure fertilizers such as hair, bone, horn, leather, wool, slaughter house, etc.
Now this strikes me as being something of very importance to farmers a plan and by which they can put into operation, have a mill, or lay the waste, and a plant with but little cost in a few months. Of course at first a cheap plant would have to be employed until a few months of the year. I would be glad of any information from you on the subject.

J. W. B. Leslie, Ga.

The department is now investigating the process named and we would prefer to give no positive information on the subject without thorough study. Our examined opinion is that it will prove of great economic value and especially so to southern Georgia, where such large deposits of carbonate of lime are to be found.

IRISH POTATOES.
We have about 12 acres of new land being planted to grain, clover and other fruit in 1904. Now, I am thinking of a spring crop to plant between the rows, perhaps potatoes. Will you please inform us as to the variety, mode of shipping, market, prospect of profits, etc.
We are not sure for any large quantities.
Also on adjoining farms. This new method is also recommended for the preparation of strong manure fertilizers such as hair, bone, horn, leather, wool, slaughter house,
etc. Now this strikes me as being something of very importance to farmers a plan and

AGRICULTURAL NEWS AND NOTES.
The poultry buildings on the farm of Honorable Levi P. Morton recently burned down are almost rebuilt, and it is estimated will cost about $10,000. The incubators and brooders will be run by electricity, while a number of other features will be erected.

As it can be carried as often ground in spring on heavily manured land, and you will get good ground and early enough.

The London Gazette estimates the wheat and the crop at 46,429,407 bushels. More land is devoted to barley than to wheat, or 2,287,986 acres, and still more to oats, 4,482,944.

The peanut crop is reported light.

Dahlonega Signal.

DAHLONEGA, MR. 16, 1894.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga., P. O., as second class matter.

The sound of the broken college bell is getting weaker.

Mr. Samuel Smith and Joseph Clements are still busily engaged prospecting on the Murray property.

Those who donned their straw hats the other day are now sneezing and carrying a nose as red as a beet.

You will find a nice line of shoes and slippers at B. F. Andersons, which will pay you to examine before purchasing elsewhere.

It is said that the first jail ever built in Dahlonega, was erected near B. R. Meaders' livery stable and was made of pine poles.

Garden and potato seeds of all kinds for sale at B. F. Andersons. Eastern potatoes 40 cents per peck, and country potatoes from 60 to 70 cents per bushel.

Sunday as the storm was approaching, some of the guests of the Burnside House, thinking there was going to be a cyclone, took refuge in the cellar.

A farmer visited Dahlonega last week and subscribed for four copies of the SIGNAL to be sent to his kinsmen twelve months. Come again and stay longer.

Much work is being done at the Benham mine out near Siloam Springs. A large force of hands are engaged erecting a rail, cutting ditches, taking out ore, etc.

Mr. H. D. Gurley has discovered a deposit mine in his garden. He says he expects to thoroughly test it at some future time, and will work it if he finds that it will pay.

Mr. W. J. Hightower happened to a very painful accident the other day, by falling from a fence upon which he was sitting. The top plank gave way and he fell against a nail which cut a deep and lengthy gash in one of his thighs.

Mr. A. J. Magness, while working at the saw mill in Cane Creek district last week, was amusing himself during his leisure moments by holding a piece of tallow to the circular saw while it was in motion.

His finger got a little too far and when he jerked it away the flesh on the inside from the end to about three quarters of an inch back was all gone, leaving the bone exposed and the end of the finger resembling a patent wrench. Jack will not play with any more circular saws while in motion.

We noticed a poor woman in town the other day in a distressed condition. Her husband had been caught some time ago toiling about a blockade distillery and sentenced to lie in Fulton county jail until the middle of May. She was here to ascertain if there was no way to get him pardoned. She lives on rented land, has not a dollar in the world, it is with difficulty that she can eat without assistance, has no relatives of means and by the time her husband reaches home it will be too late to make a crop and it is natural for any one to ask what will become of the woman and her child?

There is another old time darkey residing in Nimbrow that wants to marry. As soon as his old friend was wedded the other day, he became childish, imagined himself in the bloom of youth and sent down word by some one passing, if there was any colored woman down here who desired to marry that he was an aspirant for matrimonial honors. This is an excellent opportunity for some young lass that is fond of marrying and likes to attend funerals, for this old fellow can scarcely get about without a stick, and the time is not long before he will hang up the fiddle and the bow and be laid away to rest.

Build Him Up.
Mr. J. B. Lewis, of Atlanta, Ga., had severe dyspepsia. Physicians and all other remedies failed to cure him. He tried "Yum's Dyspepsia Remedy," and afterwards writes: "The first dose gave relief. I recommend it as the best dyspepsia remedy ever discovered. I have gained flesh since using it. I voluntarily recommend it to all sufferers with stomach troubles." For sale by druggists at 50c per bottle.

Marshal Harrison went to Atlanta this week.

Some necessary work is being done on main street.

Mr. J. L. Watts and his son have resumed digging on the Todd lot.

There has been several days this week that you could not get a dust of meal in Dahlonega.

The Gainesville and Dahlonega daily mail is now being carried by Mr. Staple and Charles Meaders of Gainesville.

Cols. Baker and Huff have both been absent this week. The former gentleman visited Atlanta and the latter Gainesville.

There will be no services at the Methodist church at this place until Sunday night, as the pastor will preach at Jones' Chapel on that day at 11 o'clock.

We see from a Washington special that Lieutenant Hagan, who had charge of the military department of the U. S. G. A. Office, two years ago has been promoted to Captain.

It is said that a general row occurred at the "even cent hall" among the colored participants Thursday night. The matter is to be investigated before the mayor sometime during the week.

Dr. Wheelock requests us to state that he has received his vaccine virus and is now ready to vaccinate any one desiring it. We have no small pox near Atlanta, but it is well enough for persons traveling to take extra precaution.

James M. Kirkham, of Jay, was before the Square of Davis' street the other day, charged with taking Jake Free's dog. He waived examination and gave bond for his appearance at the next term of Lumpkin Superior Court.

Of course we publish communications that displease some, but we can't afford to go out and see whether an article is disliked by certain persons before it appears in print. We generally risk our own judgment and our columns are open for those desiring to reply. We have no dictators.

Col. M. G. Boyd went to Atlanta this week to represent Mr. Kealey of that city in a damage suit. Some old fellow, who had attended the Kealey Institute, got drunk, fell and broke his leg and sued Mr. Kealey for a considerable amount because he failed to receive a permanent cure for drunkenness.

Several more new subscribers this week. May each and every one of them live long and prosper, and that no trouble will meet them on the way while journeying through this world, and when death knocks at their doors may they all be prepared to meet it without the least fear and leave fully satisfied that they will reap the reward that is awaiting all good people.

What's become of the State Geologist? He spent a night in Dahlonega some time ago. Surely he don't expect to make a report of the mineral resources of Lumpkin county before visiting us again. If he can tell what is in the ground by just passing over it one time he is undoubtedly the smartest man we ever heard of except the one that Joe Parker used to tell about. Jack's professor was such an expert that he could look in the direction of any mineral, and had so much magnetic power about him that when he passed over a bed of iron ore, it would hold him to the ground.

Life Is Miserable
To many people who have the taint of scrofula in their blood. The agonies caused by the dreadful running sores and other manifestations of this disease are beyond description. There is no other remedy equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla for curing blood disease in any form of blood disease. It is reasonably sure to benefit all who give it a fair trial.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ill.

The young folks are enjoying themselves now going fishing and gathering violets.

Several horses were advertised to sell here last Friday, but not a single sale took place. Was stopped by a legal process of law.

Mr. Giles Bell of Dahlonega, has in his possession a musket which was used in the war of 1812. The barrel is thin but shoots splendid.

Mr. D. T. Harris, proprietor of the Besser House, says his wife owns a spinning wheel supposed to be one hundred and fifty years old.

Miss Sue Davis of this county, left this week for the Indian Territory where she expects to locate. She carries with her her best wishes for her future welfare in the far west.

The editor has been getting everything in readiness this week to make a crop. If the seasons are good there will be an over production of everything raised on the farm.

Aaron Stephens, colored, was bound over and lodged in jail for stealing two of Miss Mary Jenkins' chickens Saturday night and selling them to Ben Goodluck. There will be dear chickens for Aaron.

You will find at the new store of Mr. J. E. Howell meat, rail, coffee, flour, oysters, crackers, pickles, candy, peanuts, snuff, cigars, cheroots, cigarettes, snuff, soap and many other things too tedious to mention.

One of the councilmen informs us that it is the intention of the members to reduce all the taxes possible this year. And when a man goes on the street good work will be expected and required of him, and that twenty cents boys will not receive men's wages.

The Phi Mu Society gave a public debate at this college Saturday night, which was largely attended and listened to with much interest by our citizens. Subject discussed: "Resolved, that the execution of Mary Queen of Scots was justifiable." Messrs. Hiram Byrd and C. J. Steward represented the affirmative, and Messrs. E. W. Graham and H. H. Lane the negative. The points made by the young men were strong, the argument good and the delivery most excellent.

No better speeches were ever delivered in the college chapel on any occasion than that listened to by the audience that night. President Cheney, after a few remarks, rendered his decision in favor of the negative.

We are due our subscribers at Yahoola an explanation on account of not receiving their papers on time last week. The clerk in the mailing department of this office upon reaching the name of Yahoola, had an extra flourish to the letter Y, with several different shades, and when the mail was sent to the office the post master believed this package to be intended for one of those Chinamen doing business at Gainesville and forwarded it. Then it was delivered to the Chinaman, he couldn't read it, and the package had to be returned and be re-addressed before it could go forward, in the cause of the delay. No blame attached to the post master in this case. We always live to the line let the chips fall where they may.

The tax receiver will commence his rounds on the 4th day of April. The first place he will visit will be Yahoola.

Mr. W. C. Stargel is moving from this county to Gainesville, where he expects to keep a wagon on yard.

We are informed that Mr. Benham, who anticipated moving to Dahlonega has declined, and will occupy what is known as the Smith building near New Bridge.

Prof. H. Maritz, of Norfolk, Va., who was appointed by the board of Trustees to take charge of the business department of the N. G. A. College, arrived here last Monday.

The entertainment given by the young ladies at the college last Friday evening was very interesting and pronounced to be a success by the many people that attended it.

Mr. H. D. Gurley has just completed a beautiful fence around his lot where the jail used to stand, in which several prisoners came so near losing their lives during their destruction in the time of the late war.

The Rev. Theo. K. Astell, the greatest living original Evangelist, will preach at Bethlehem church on the first Saturday and Sunday in April. The neighbors in the vicinity of the church are expecting a rich gospel treat.

Only one of the jurors, who sit on the case and found John Bell guilty of murder had signed the petition asking for his pardon out of the penitentiary up to last Saturday, and that was Mr. Holman, who now resides in White county, but very few of the members of this body have been seen yet.

Another revision of the jury box of Lumpkin county will take place in August. Before that time two of the present jury commissioners, Capt. Joseph Allen and Mr. A. G. Wimpy's terms expire. They were appointed in April 1888 for six years and their times will be out at the next term of Lumpkin Superior court.

Eola Jefferson picked up a rook near the jail the other day, containing which could be seen with the natural eye. Several rich gold bearing veins have already been discovered in the town of Dahlonega and no doubt there are many more, which are being walked over by our citizens every day.

The approach of spring is now evident because that big gobbler that W. H. W. Gurley sent us from Galdistown last Tuesday evening our premises by his constant pocking. Henry Gurley is a great fellow in his neighborhood and his hospitality, when you go to see him, is kindly. He always remembers the editor in a substantial way, and the sending of a big gobbler to pay his subscription is a novel way of doing business which is highly appreciated by the recipient.

An account of a trap set by a blockader in this county some time ago to catch some revenue officer, has just come to light. He resided near the foot of the Blue Ridge, and had learned from a friend that a revenue warrant had been issued against him. Upon receiving this information he informed his family that he would hide in the smoke house and listened to the spot, with his gun in hand. After remaining there awhile the thought struck him that he could make arrangement to get rid of any officer that might search for him in his hiding place. So he got a string and tied it to the trigger of his gun, placed it in such a position that it would discharge by the pulling of the door by any one who might enter from the outside, and the contents of the gun would be sure to strike them in the face. After getting everything ready he lay down on a couple of quilts without informing his family of what he had done, and soon fell asleep. About 12 o'clock in the night one of his daughters thought she heard the officials coming, and ran to the smokehouse to tell her father, and just as she pulled the shutter, bang went the gun. Fortunately she was a free woman and the loud passed over her head, but her scared condition can better be imagined than explained.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

We understand that Mr. Barrett is preparing to move back to Dawson county.

Col. J. M. Merrett, one of Cleveland's leading attorneys was down last Monday on legal business.

Mr. B. R. Meaders says the peaches will be killed this year because they will bloom out on the new of the moon.

Spring is rapidly approaching, and oh, won't the young people have a gay time going to picnics and roaming through the woods gathering flowers and moss and making whistles.

Mr. M. C. Chester of Randa, visited Dahlonega Monday. Col. is spoken of for sheriff. He is large enough, brave enough, and pretty enough to fill the place, and all that is lacking is the office, and should he take a notion to make the race, he will be in some one's way considerably.

Water was put on the mines Saturday, all the old hands were notified to appear and on last Monday morning operations were resumed at the Hand and Yahoola mines. Mr. Wahl has taken the right view of things and in all probability will keep the ball in motion and will gather up the yellow metal similar to a rolling ball of snow.

Rev. Mr. Ledbetter, Prof. Dum and others, went to the mountains hunting last week. They brought back the tail and one ear of a deer. Guess they got the whole animal, for it is very seldom you ever see the tail and ear of one of these fast running and much sought for animals in the mountains without getting the whole body.

Mr. G. W. Brice, who recently returned to this county from the West, visited Dahlonega last Saturday. This gentleman was here while the Burnside House was being built, and says it was the first building ever erected in our town. Mr. Brice has been quite successful during his absence from this country, and now returns with the expectation of making Lumpkin county his future home provided he can purchase a suitable farm.

Col. Price left yesterday for Columbus, S. C. He will meet Mr. T. Ezzard at Gainesville and accompany him for the purpose of making an appeal to Gov. Thins for executive clemency. We will be remembered by some of our readers that Mr. Ezzard is under sentence of fifteen months in the penitentiary of South Carolina, under conviction for larceny after trust. Col. Price hopes to have the sentence commuted. Mr. E. will be reinstated at Barnwell, S. C., next Monday.

Mr. Wm. Barrett, who had one of his shoulders dislocated during a runaway, near Gainesville Monday was a week ago, was brought home last week, and his shoulder replaced by Dr. Howard and Wheelock of Dahlonega, after putting the patient under the influence of chloroform Thursday. Dr. Castleberry of Murraysville and Dr. Haney of Gainesville, made an effort to do this soon after the accident occurred, and probably believed that he had freed the old man's arm up all right, but it proved to be a failure.

Specimen Cases.
S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism. His Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite failed away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.
Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Pa., had a running sore on the leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and the sore was cured. Sold by E. C. Cartledge, Druggist.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder
World's Fair Highest Award.

Attorney Vandervor of Dawsonville, attended our Justice Court held here last week.

Mr. J. F. Moore expects to erect a beautiful residence on the corner of his lot, Clarksville street, during the present year.

Some decisions of the state board of education will be found on the first side of to-day's paper which will be of interest to our officials and school teachers.

Some more "high head" was indulged in by parties Saturday and the calaboose was used by some who had indulged too freely, as a place for rest and safety.

Marshal Harrison has a good eighty gallon still, cap and worm complete for operation, found up on Chastee some weeks ago, which he says the owner can come and claim if he chooses.

Quite a number of persons of this place were summoned to go before the U. S. grand jury in Atlanta Tuesday, to be sworn as witnesses against parties who have been violating the revenue laws.

Many of our readers will be glad to hear from Mr. J. L. Wallace, who moved from Dahlonega a few years ago to Marks Falls, Texas. He and his son Luther, left that place a few days ago, for the Indian Territory, traveling through the country. The past season in Texas was very dry and but little was produced on the farms, and they are in search of a better climate. Return to Georgia. Taking it on the average, it is the best poor man's country in the world. Since writing the above we learn that these gentlemen have returned to Texas.

We have two old relics, the of fee towel and water bucket. The ages of either are not known by us. The towel looks like a piece of black calico, and its long loose cautions as it rattles like a piece of potash. Our girl partner undertook to brighten up the bucket the other day. She used soap, ashes and potash but could not change its color until she put it into a pot of water and boiled it like a gourd. When the dirt was removed the vessel was found to be made of cedar, and had one home made band around it supposed to be made by John A. Woodten while blacksmithing in a little shop where the Masons Hall now stands, during the first settling of Dahlonega.

The Methodist church was well filled with people last Sabbath to hear the pastor deliver his sermon upon a subject heretofore announced in these columns. Dr. Ledbetter certainly handled his subject well and it was unusually interesting and instructive, as a proof of the fact men's faces appeared in the congregation that day who had not been inside of a church for several months, all of whom complimented the distinguished divine for the able manner in which he handled the subject for discussion on that beautiful and pleasant Sabbath morning.

A Household Treasure.
D. W. F. Felt, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use, that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy that he has used in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottle free at E. C. Cartledge, Druggist. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

It seems only child.
This week's demonstration in that respect brings forth the probability that many other darkies have been engaged in the business, and the loss is so great it is high time the authorities were putting a stop to it.

The notorious Phil Simmons, violinist of Gainesville, who manipulates the fiddle and the bow with the sweetness of John Bull, was in the city last Friday. Phil is selling pianos and organs. He did not receive any orders here for our town is supplied with these instruments. We are always glad to see Phil.

Some spurious tickets unknowing to the managers of this office, were printed in the Signal office and were received last Friday night at the door of the entertainment for admittance. We are on track of the perpetrators of the job, which is a very poor one of counterfeiting, and the guilty parties will receive proper chastisement. Such an act is a very small way at cheating and swindling and we hope that another act of the kind will never take place from our office.

$5,080.63 Worth of Gold Purchased by one Merchant.

One of Dahlonega's most enterprising merchants has kindly shown us his books giving the net returns of gold sent by him to the assay office mint from Jan. 1, 1893 to March 4th, 1894, which amounts to the sum of $5,080.63, and was purchased from miners working in and near Dahlonega on the veins and in the rich deposits of the gold belt. Not a single dollar of this large amount includes any of the gold belonging to the various company's here engaged in successful mining in this section. Nor does this amount include all the gold that is dug here outside of the companies, for there are at least ten other business men in Dahlonega handling gold.

Read the purchases of this single merchant for each month, as follows:

The Street Gold Mine.

The gold mine which is being worked in the street near this office by Messrs. Jackson and Howell, is creating much excitement. The vein is increasing in size and richness every day. Several tons of the ore is ready for the mill and will be crushed right away, after which time we will give the exact value.

It shows up beautiful. You can stand from four to six feet from the vein and see the gold sticking to the rocks by the light of a candle. A person not accustomed to mining and easy excited over the appearance of gold, would believe the ore to be worth from forty to fifty dollars per ton. Of course, if you could get as much as a ton of the richest, it would certainly be worth that amount. Mr. Jackson informs us that he does not believe the ore he is selling now will average over ten dollars per ton, but it is growing richer as they dig down on it, and if it continues to do so until water is reached, there is no telling what its value will be.

Since writing the above we see that water has been struck and the vein is near two feet thick and very rich.

The council has secured about 200 pounds of the ore from this mine which will be exhibited at the coming exposition in Atlanta.

MR. NESBITT'S REPORT.

His Monthly Talk to the Farmers of the State of Georgia.

CORN PLANTING SEASON.

Experiments in Farming, Irrigation and Rotation, Success in Cotton Planting, Fertilizers, Orchard and Garden.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, ATLANTA, March 1, 1904.

First I wish to call attention to a typographical error in last month's report, which makes me say exactly the opposite of what I intended—that is, that poor land can bear more fertilizer than rich land. The fact I wished to emphasize is that poor land will not respond to large amounts of commercial fertilizer, and that there is no more effective way to "burn up" a crop than to apply several hundred pounds to land which, though originally good, has been in clean culture for several successive years, and is consequently almost destitute of vegetable matter or humus. To make the commercial fertilizer most effective, this humus must be supplied by either green crops or composts, and until there is a moderate amount of this necessary ingredient restored to the soil, we must be very careful of the cost of responding for our investment, and careful as to the amount of fertilizer used. Once our lands are filled with humus, we can venture on heavy and are paying application of the commercial goods. The UNFAVORABLE WEATHER. During the first part of January, the first of February has much retarded on the annual rainfall must be made up at some time, and perhaps it is better just now than later, when the seed have been put in the ground and the young plants find it almost impossible to push their way through the crust which now inevitably forms after very heavy rains.

March is essentially the month for CORN PLANTING throughout the state. The first of April usually finds the bulk of the crop put in, although owing to late springs, and some changes of methods, the time for planting is delayed, perhaps a week, later than in former years. As to the proper time of planting one must be guided by circumstances. Some very successful planters, maintain that the crop should be planted as early as possible after the first of March, even when the opening plow breaks the frost crust. This may succeed in some localities and in some climates of land, but, in general, my experience has been, that it is better for the land to become somewhat warmer and up before putting the seed in. They plant, when the mornings were foggy and winter mists lingered in the air, and although I now advocate early planting, I think we should be somewhat guided by natural indications as to the condition of the hickory and maple buds and other natural signs of spring. I have never noticed, that where this precaution is observed, and the plants get a good start, a severe spring frost has done any harm, for, while the soil may be temporarily chilled, the root growth, soil preparation, and the consequent sturdy vigorous plant.

If an early start is desired, it is well to plant only a part of the crop, thus leaving the bulk for later planting. This early crop often matures and gives a good crop, when the main crop is cut off by frost in the former year. As to the seed for the main crop, should be such as has been tested and found reliable. In fact, the early crop should select the best tested variety of early maturing seed, and plant in warm, sunny, having, if possible, a southern exposure. One advantage of this plan is, that the cultivation of this early planting does not conflict with that of the cotton crop, is often the case, when the seed of the cotton crop is planted later. Another advantage is, that the tendency of early planted corn is to mature earlier, and the heavier ears, two very desirable points in our climate where excessive stalk growth is one of the disadvantages to be guarded against. After years of experience and experiment, I believe that the PLANTING IN THE WATER FURROW is the surest and safest. It was the plan planted by the most successful farmer, David Dickson of Hancock, and greatly conduced to the level culture by natural irrigation connected to the only true method. I have found that the plan is to be planted in the water furrow, three feet apart, and the rows should be at least five, six, or even seven feet—the latter being the best, and to avoid the injury, which the corn suffers from the narrow ridge, cover with a double foot plow, having short narrow wheel tongue. The little ridge thus made protects the seed and young roots from any damage that might result from the flow of water, and while the seed are not so heavily covered, they are still a good deal above the surrounding surface. Any one who has studied the habits of the corn plant knows that the roots are formed at each joint and above the first joint, and if the seed are planted too deep these first joints are suppressed by other joints growing in all directions from each successive joint. As the corn develops, seeking for light and heat, it will, at the end of this season, come from above, and the roots should be made to make their roots do full duty. To accomplish this, the seed should be planted in a furrow, and should be so close to the surface to take in a sufficient supply of air and sunshine, and yet not too near to be injured by unexpected or unfavorable extremes of weather, and as the furrows are of roots is developed to throw a little more soil over the seed, giving the seed a firm hold in the soil.

David Dickson's plan of cultivation was to use only the sweep, giving a little dirt to the corn, each time, until at the last perfectly level, and the corn, with healthy vigorous roots, was completely buried in the earth. But this presupposes the land thoroughly broken, and the soil finely pulverized throughout.

Where the field is rough, a long, narrow sweep run next to the young plants, opens a furrow, which admits the heat and light from the sun, and by leaving this furrow open, until we turn back to work the "middle," the roots are encouraged to strike down towards the soil, and thus perform their full function in supporting the plant. The number of rows from the plan, the cultivation should be such as to throw a little more soil over the land perfectly level, and only the last circle of "three" rows left. The plan then is no "hilling up," and no hoeing, beyond perhaps a little, when the corn is thinned out to one stalk to each three feet.

MANURING. Corn is a greedy feeder, and will take up almost any kind of manure, the question of application of the fertilizer depending on the quantity to be used; the time of application depends on the quality of the manure. Better results are obtained from heavy compost and barnyard manures, by putting them in early, and covering them with the soil, and covering lighter applications in the drill. This is true for the chemical reaction and combination, with the soil, and the same may be said of phosphates. On level land, where the ordinary commercial fertilizer cannot be washed away, it is entirely safe to apply the richest manure in the fall, and to be applied later, and nitrate of soda at planting time, or even later. The number of applying fertilizers should be guided by the amount. If only a small quantity is used, it is best to put in the soil, the greater the risk of heavy application in the drill, and this should be thoroughly incorporated with the soil, and put in a narrow line, or a little spot near the seed. If heavier applications are made, it is better to broadcast or put in additional furrows at the first and second working, this will be more evenly distributed, injury from drought is less probable, and the roots, in seeking food, will spread out, instead of concentrating at one point.

CORN PANS. On bottom land or very rich upland, but not so good, when the seed are better and more profitably planted in pans. The yield is excellent, good for food, and will improve instead of carrying out the land. Oats and peas alternated, will furnish all the stock feed needed, and at far less cost, and the land is put in condition to yield heavy crops of corn and cotton. On average upland a good mixture for corn is as follows:

Cottonseed meal.....50 lbs.
Superphosphate.....30 lbs.
Kainit.....30 lbs.
If the land is very rich, use less meal and more superphosphate. For good land or fresh bottom land the following will do the best very rapidly:

General Effects of Beer.

The following paragraphs carry especial weight because of their appearance in the Scientific American.
The use of beer is found to produce a species of degeneration of all the organs, profound and deplorable. Pasty deposits, diminished circulation, conditions of congestion, perversion of functional activities, local inflammation of both the liver and the kidneys, are constantly present.

Intellectually, a stupor amounting almost to paralysis, arrests the reason, changing all the highest faculties into more animalistic, venust, sluggish, varied only with the paroxysms of anger that are senseless and brutal.

In appearance, the beer drinker may be the picture of health, but in reality, he is most incapable of resisting disease. A slight injury, however cold, or shock to the body or mind, will commonly provoke some disease, ending fatally. Compared with temperance who use different kinds of alcohol, he is more frequently and more generally diseased.

The constant use of beer every day gives the system no recuperation, but steadily lowers the vital forces. Thus our observation that beer drinking in this country, produces the very lowest form of debility, is very closely allied to criminal insanity.

Does Alcohol Warm Us?
It was argued with his disingenuous necessity of taking a stimulant. He argued that he was weak and needed it. Said he: "But, doctor, I must have some kind of a stimulant. I am cold and it warms me."

"Precisely," came the doctor's stern answer. "See here this stick of wood from the box beside the hearth and tossing it into the fire, how it is warm; but is the stick benefited?"

The sick man watched the wood first and little puffs of smoke and then burst into flame, and he replied: "Of course not; it is burning itself!"

"And so are you when you warm yourself with alcohol, you are literally burning up the delicate tissues of stomach and brain!"

O, yes! alcohol will warm you up, but who finds the fuel? When you take food, that is fuel, and it burns out your keep warm. But when you take alcohol to warm you, you are like a man who sets his house on fire and warms his fingers by it as it burns.

Prisoners in the Maryland penitentiary are required to perform some certain amount of labor daily. If any prisoner performs more than his task he is paid for it. When a prisoner has served his sentence out, whatever sum may be standing to his credit for extra work done, is paid to him in cash; thus he has a little fund with which to start new.

Last week the prisoners in the penitentiary who had small sums to their credit, asked and received permission to make contributions to the fund for the relief of the poor. And the sum of contributions from the convicts amounted to nearly $500. It is doubtful if any charity fund ever before received a contribution under similar circumstances.

In this instance a lot of convicts set a worthy example for citizens to follow.

Good things To Remember

"These hard things to remember in these hard times that 'a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things he possesseth.' Outward possessions are not essential to happiness. Indeed, Lord Bacon pronounces them 'the baggage of virtue'—impediments hindering the march.
At any rate happiness is a principle within. It is a mood rather than a state. If the heart is tranquil, the mind calm, the conscience clear and the digestion good, and if to them be added a sufficiency of food and clothing with a modest roof, what more is needed?
Wants increase with means, and always outrun possession. An inward disturbance shatters happiness, whatever the environment.
An ancient philosopher thanked Providence, for a heathen name, when after losing his estate, he cried: 'I thank thee, Fortune, which has now compelled me to retire and live within my cloak.'"

There is in the Missouri river, near Omaha, an island on which is built a town called East Omaha. According to an Omaha lawyer's understanding of a recent decision of the United States supreme court, East Omaha is in both Nebraska and Iowa, yet owing to the peculiar course of the river, is under the jurisdiction of neither commonwealth. Acting on the lawyer's advice, that neither state can interfere, the gamblers of Omaha are preparing to establish an "American Monte Carlo" on the island. All the gambling places in the city of Omaha have been closed by the police.

DAHLONEGA, MR. 23, 1894.

Dr. Felton knocks the bark of the present administration in his recent letter to the Atlanta Constitution.

Senator Colquitt has again been stricken with paralysis. This time in the throat and his case is serious.

Col. Nowt Twitty of Jackson county will probably be in the race for Congress in the ninth on the people's party ticket.

Hon. Thomas E. Winn would warm up the track in the ninth Congressional District should he decide to make the race on the people's party ticket.

F. J. Atkinson was confined in Fulton jail last week charged with blowing up a revenue informer's house in Walker county last December with dynamite.

The cyclone which visited the northern part of Texas this week killed over twenty-five people and destroyed thousands of dollars worth of property.

We are informed that the outfit belonging to the Gainesville Christian Messenger has been purchased, and the early appearance of a people's party paper may be looked for.

Several thousand people visited Griffin Tuesday to hear the joint debate between Gals. Atkinson and Erans. A brass band on hand and altogether made it quite interesting.

A democratic mass meeting was held in Milton county a few days ago with three members. One was elected chairman, one secretary and the other fellow composed the audience. It was certainly a big rally.

Thousands of dollars have been subscribed by Atlanta citizens for the exposition which takes place in that city and will be every thing else undertaken by its enterprising citizens, a success.

The Breckinridge trial at Washington is still on hand and each day's evidence fills from three to four columns of the daily papers. Miss Pollard has been on the stand off and on for two days.

Mr. Bland's seigniorage bill passed the Senate last week by a vote of 44 to 31. It will now go to President Cleveland who doubtless will blot it out of existence, as he has no taste for any such measures.

Texas is suffering a great deal from the drought of last summer and the cyclones. Another one of these destructive tornadoes recently visited the Lone Star State, killed and injured many people and destroyed much property.

A female was arrested in Atlanta the other night dressed in men's clothing with a pistol in one of her hip pockets. She claimed that she was in search of her husband who had deserted her. This manner of looking for a lost husband cost her $5.

A plot was made to rob the express car of the Air-line near Atlanta Tuesday night by a band of unemployed men. At least half a dozen detectives, armed with Winchester, were put on the watch but no attempt was made. It is reported that the sickness of the wife of one of the leaders caused a delay.

Lightning struck the college building at Blue Ridge a few days ago, tore out one side of the building, passed on down the roof leaving on its path as it went. One window in the second story was completely demolished as also was the front door; another current passed down through the center of a room in the north wing of the building. Two boys were sheltered under the building, one was killed dead and the other was so shocked that it is completely paralyzed and his flesh looked as black as the one that was killed.

Senator Stewart writes from Washington to the News (Popular) at Denver a lengthy letter wherein he states that the avowed purpose of ex-President Harrison in his denunciation of Cleveland in his Western speeches was self-advancement. Stewart says that Mr. Harrison is on another campaign of deception in the interests of the gold syndicate of New York and London; it was the conspiracy of the Harrison and Cleveland administrations which depleted the Treasury and brought on the panic. He closes by declaring that the People's party is the nucleus around which the people may rally and rescue the country from the slavery of the gold bugs.

Wants a Democratic Meeting.

Our contemporary seems very anxious for a democratic gathering and is urging and pleading for the proper one in Lumpkin county to make a call so that they can have a kind of a love feast or celebration.

The party is getting considerably scattered in Lumpkin county and the guardians should lose no time in gathering together those of the modern variety so as to keep them posted in the grip and passwords. The following appropriate hymn should be used at all democratic political revivals:

When I can read my title clear
To eat of Cleveland's pie,
I'll bid farewell to every fear,
And tell a thousand lies.

Like Slippery Dan, I'll whet my vim,
And show that black is white,
I'll prove a yellow dog is a man,
And swear that wrong is right.
Let pants like a deluge come,
And wheat and cotton fall;
In office I will be at home,
With Grover my salary, my all.
There shall I receive my pay,
Devote myself to gain,
Nor listen to the people's groans,
Until the next campaign.

There I will go upon the stump,
And seek another prize;
I'll be a statesman or no more,
And tell more campaign lies.
For lies are now our stock in store,
The people gull and have before,
In country and in town.

The Book of Grover.

(CHAPTER II.)

Now, when Grover was crowned king of the nation, it came to pass that he was puffed up in the pride of his heart and his other virtues, inasmuch as his talents became several cubits too small to contain his jobs. And he shook himself by the hand, which is after the manner of his tribe, and spake unto himself saying, "I am he!"

Behold I am a monarch of all I can get. Four more years of Grover for four more years in glory. O America, America, how often would I have gathered you under my wings, but ye would not. But now I have ye on the hip, and ye are confronted with a condition, not a theory, for behold I will rule or ruin ye.

Ye, verily, to commence with, I will let you my great silver sword and all who believe on me and do my will shall be saved, and who don't shall be broke.

And I will call my scribes and scribes together and they shall tinker at the tariff, and when they have finished their tinkering, McKinley the father of the factory, will not recognize the same.

And it shall come to pass that all who hearken unto the sound of my voice, shall have sewing machines from Glasgow at cost and ten off; and corrugated copper casks from the ends of the earth.

And when Grover had spoke these words he rose thither, and the people went out and wept bitterly.

(CHAPTER III.)

And after the space of a time it came to pass that when the shepherds took of the flocking of their flock and sheared them, and went up to the city to exchange their fleeces for pieces of silver, the wise men of the city said unto them:

"X this season! Some other season." Ye, Grover is Great. It is all-wind and a yard wide, but the slump in wool is several cubits wider.

And the shepherds marvelled exceedingly, and some of them then, even they which had hearkened unto the voice of Grover, smote their breasts and went up and down with bent heads crying to one another, "Behold it! Then will kill me I will do even so to thee."

And when diggers of the earth went with their silver and lead precious stones and said to the money-changers, "Give us gold that we may eat, and clothing that we may dress us," the money-changers laughed, little child hard laughs and sang songs of great sacrifice, saying:

"Grover, Grover, four years now of Grover we would buy your lead, but times are dead till four years more are over," and other psalms. And when they heard the psalmist many hired kickers, and others took their law on the inhabitants of the nation said damn.

And it came to pass that the storm came, and the panic descended, and the children of the day were lifted up their hands and wrong them in great lamentations, saying: "Wherefore art thou, Grover, our deliverer, and wisdom are the good times all?" and a mighty voice came back from the wilderness, saying:

The President is fleeing and must not be disturbed."—Salt Lake City Tribune.

ER. SIGNAL.—The lovely spring season has come, and the flowers are beginning to bloom and the birds to sweetly sing. How beautiful God makes this world in spite of all of its sins. What must that world be above where streams of the goodness of God forever flow?

The people of this community are morally improving, and the prospects for better times growing brighter.

The Christian people had a very enjoyable meeting at Lebanon church on the last Sunday. Rev. Mr. West preached an acceptable sermon.

Hon. John Woody, so long and respectfully known to the people of Lumpkin and adjoining counties, under the heavy hand of affliction still lingers, but is gradually passing away, and "the eye of him that hath seen him will soon see him no more." He was naturally a large and kind hearted man and had the love and respect of his neighbors, and will be greatly missed in his family and settlement.

Abel Woody, after a four months imprisonment at Gainesville for violation of the revenue law, on the 12th inst. returned to the bosom of his dear family. He looked humped and much reduced in his physical appearance. He said at a housewarming in the settlement, he would advise all his friends to have nothing to do with blockade distilleries. "Show my love, O Lord forever!"

A short time after Abel's arrival the community was again startled by the appearance of Sheriff Henderson and posse. The sheriff had warrants for the arrest of several persons. Grant Woody, Thomas Hutson and Mrs. Marion Hutson respectfully gave bond for their appearance at the next term of the Superior Court. Andy Woody and family, James Stover and Dan Holmby had already fled the country and gone to parts unknown.

Abel Woody had previously sent in his bond. Meantime let us have peace. Good evening. B.

The Incorrect Statement.

Mr. Enron.—Please allow me space in your columns to reply to your "Two Run" correspondent of last week's paper, and to inform your readers that they have been misled by him.

While reading the "Two Run News" I noticed that your correspondent took the authority to announce that I would "preach at Jones Chapel every first Sunday." Of course your readers at a distance, and those who are unacquainted with me would think the statement to be true, while those who reside near by and are well acquainted with me know that the statement is untrue and without foundation. Knowing this I do not propose to keep silent.

I am no "Rev." as he calls me, neither do I belong to any church, and when your correspondent published the statement that I would preach at Jones Chapel, knew he was writing a lie. I do not see how he could have the conscience to write such, and publicly state that a sinner would preach in the house of God. Surely he is one of the "lost sheep of the house of Israel" and needs the blood of Christ applied to his soul. The title he gave me I do not possess, but I would to God that your correspondent possessed it, not only in name but in principle. If he did I don't think he would spend his time writing that which he knows to be false.

No correspondent above the line of a vagabond can be guilty of uttering his false statement, and the church, and such a correspondent should not be noticed by the editor of a paper.

He also stated that I was on a "counting expedition." That is another one of his lies. I only attended preaching at Pleasant Hill Church and returned home immediately after services. It is a mystery why a correspondent will sit down and write a falsehood on the Sabbath, especially about his acquaintances while at church. He goes before the public under the name of a "Good Boy" and if he was as good in principle as he tries to be in name he would not have written those "lies." If you knew, Mr. Editor, how little of this writing you section think of his writing you would certainly discard him for he is nothing but a Jemon in sheep's clothing walking up and down the earth seeking whom he can devour. And your correspondent can take it for granted that if he ever misrepresents me again I will place his name before the public and give to the critics his spotted record.

And now in conclusion, I publicly request your correspondent to read and think about that passage of scripture where all liars shall have their part. Respectfully,
J. B. SIMMONS.

A MEETING OF OLD MEN.

All Eat Dinner at J. K. P. Lanco's.

Mr. James Pitter, residing near the foot of the Blue Ridge, in Hightower district, Lumpkin county, celebrated his 80th birth day at the residence of Mr. J. K. P. Lanco, where this good old gentleman lives, on the 19th inst.

By receiving an invitation I made it convenient to be on hand at the occasion, where I found some old gentlemen and ladies. The old men talked of years that have long since passed and gone, and the women and children in olden times, such as farming, etc. No politics or religious beliefs were discussed. Shortly after 12 o'clock an alarm was given at the kitchen door and dinner announced, which interrupted the conversation for the time being. Mr. James Pitter took a seat at the head of the table, and the old men aged as follows, occupied seats at the table: John Ferguson 80, John B. Graham 79, John Simmons 75, Martin L. Jones 69, M. Williams 62, J. W. Rider 59, J. K. P. Lanco 47, J. N. Satterfield 33.

Now as to the dinner, we will not undertake to describe the many good and delicious things that filled the table for it was the very best that could be furnished by a first class farmer, which Lanco is. The quantity, quality, manner in which it was served could not be excelled, and the hospitalities extended by the family made every one present feel that they were perfectly welcome.

After the dinner the old men were talking with old age, but to see the manner in which Mr. Lanco and Mrs. Satterfield served out the delectable things was delightful. After eating we all took our seats out on the porch while the ladies, aged as follows, dined: Mrs. Ferguson 78, Mrs. Graham 70, Mrs. Simmons 65, Mrs. Jones 61, Mrs. Rider 60.

The old time conversation still went on. Mr. Ferguson told of the first election in the county, which was at Auraria, and all the voters had to go there to vote. John Carder said that he lived with in about two miles of that place when the Indians were here. Many other circumstances which occurred many years ago were related.

At about two o'clock we were invited into the house. Rev. John W. Rider read a chapter, which was very appropriate, then all that could sing engaged in an old time song, after which prayer was offered by Martin L. Jones, in a very appropriate and impressive manner. After prayer, was over, Mr. John B. Graham stated that the following day was his birth day and invited all to his house.

Then there was a handsaking and a goodby and all went home. But for sickness I would be on hand. F. M. WILLIAMS.

A Suggestion.

Mr. Enron.—Allow me to suggest to you, that in my judgment it would be a good thing for you to furnish a copy of the SIGNAL weekly, to the councilman not taking it. For in addition to the trouble given to the poor Confederate widow, from whom he borrows, he has been known to borrow from farmers on their way home, and never return their paper.

Randa Dots.

All quiet. The farmers are on a boom. Miss Georgia Moss has been on a pleasant visit to the Plains. Several of our neighbors are on a visit to Atlanta.

Mr. Ed. Jones had a working the other day and had all the work to do himself.

Miss Lizzie Duckett has been visiting Miss Ada Jones this week. Mr. M. C. Berry is still on the hunt of his best girl.

We regret the illness of Mrs. Marcus but hope she will soon recover. SUBSCRIBER.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes Pure Blood and Cures Malaria. It is well known that we all attribute to the testimony of Mr. A. M. Beck, who is well known in Florida, and to the traveling public, having for years been a railroad passenger conductor and later, ticket agent at Jacksonville. "O. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass."

"Some three or four years ago I wrote to you in reference to the good my boy had derived from the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now allow me to say that the same boy and his mother have been cured of the blood disease."

Prostrated with Malaria and Hood's Sarsaparilla has again been used with satisfactory results. I do not believe you can find a much better looking child for his age, eight years, than our boy. For this picture at night his mother and also myself attribute it to the use of that most valuable remedy, Hood's Sarsaparilla. The trouble before taking the medicine was an affliction with boils, and a general breaking out all over his body. Of course from such suffering the child became weak and

The editor is taking in the city of Gainesville his week.

You will find a nice line of shoes and slippers at B. F. Andersons, which will pay you to examine before purchasing elsewhere.

Several communications were left out this week for lack of space. Our correspondents must not become discouraged, for we do the best we can and try to please all.

It is the warmest March that has been experienced in this country for many years. The grass is springing up, the trees are getting green and the cows can soon live in the woods.

An attachment was levied on the Turkey Hill property by the Sheriff last Tuesday in favor of Wm. Bryson for the purchase money, against Mr. Pratt, who recently traded the property.

Mrs. E. W. Strickland left for Atlanta Tuesday to purchase her spring and summer stock of millinery goods which will arrive next week. Lookout for her announcement in our next issue.

Should you wish an ice-cold, exhilarating drink, go to W. B. Woodward's distillery. Soda Pop in bottles, Ginger Beer and other mild drinks on draught, served with ice and flavorings of all kinds.

It was reported here Wednesday that Mrs. A. C. Johnson and one of her little daughters, who left Dahlgonega a few months ago for Texas, were killed by a cyclone this week. It's all a mistake. The parties killed resided in lower Georgia.

Harley Dickey, colored, while running across the square Tuesday evening during the storm, received an electric shock. He said he could smell sulphur and everything was dark for some time. As soon as Harley could use his legs he got on at a more rapid rate.

Mr. Christian Wahl and his son-in-law, Mr. Arthur Wald, of Milwaukee, arrived in Dahlgonega Tuesday. It is stated that Mr. Wahl anticipates remaining work on full time at all of his mines that will pay. The pump is being put in position at the Knight shaft, and the gold bearing vein in the bottom will soon be exposed.

It is not known whether Mr. Osborn will speak here Monday or not. The announcement has been taken out of the People's Party Paper but still appears in the latter issues. None of the farmers and laborers will be here that day for they do not desire to lose a day's work unless they know for certain that the speaker would be on hand.

The management of the Gainesville and Dahlgonega daily mail line reminds us of little boys swiping knives. It is not known one day they will run it next. At this writing Mr. D. E. Evans controls it. An effort was made to get the time changed back to 8 1/2 hours, but so far without success. Men have got no business taking contracts to carry the mail on quick time for a mere nominal sum. If the original contractor of this line in Missouri was compelled to deliver the mail himself it would learn people to get working for the government for nothing.

Joe Howell and Frank Crisson had a difficulty over at the Chestnut mine Saturday. Nothing serious, however. There was no broken arms nor dislocated shoulders.

Walt Ward, who had a case against him for pocketing another man's razor, his left for parts unknown, leaving his bondsmen behind to tough it out.

Aaron Stephens who has been locked up several days for removing other people's poultry, is out on bond. It is said that Aaron stole his own when he hears a chicken either crow or cackle.

Mr. Joseph McDougall of Hightower district, has been unable to get away for several days on account of receiving some injuries recently by falling off the porch while attempting to lean his chair against a post.

Mr. Henry Dyre was arrested last Saturday by Sheriff Brooksher, on a warrant charging him with an assault with intent to murder one Beekie Blackwell, groom. He was afterwards arraigned and the warrant withdrawn.

Black martins have made their appearance, snow birds are all gone, the leaves are beginning to cover the trees with their green foliage, and you might now begin to sing in a low tone, that beautiful song called "Gentle Annie."

Henry Roberts and Al Singleton, two of Dahlgonega's practical miners, might be added to the lucky list. They struck a vein in sight of Dahlgonega a few days ago that will produce big money, judging from the gold that can be seen in the rocks.

Half gallon of whiskey and brandy was shipped by a gentleman of Dahlgonega last Saturday, to a friend of his in Oklahoma Territory, who went west from this place a few years ago. The party is very fond of strong liquors of this kind and won't be snafk his lips and think of the old folks at home when he tastes the juice of corn and apples of his native state. This gift will probably cause him to lie up several days by an attack of "home sickness."

Just after the "heaviest part" of the storm was over Tuesday, some one threw a piece of dynamite near the smokestack used for a chimney at the cabin of Docia, who recently wedded Bob Beck, but since left him, damaging nothing except knocking the substituting a little out of position and scaring the inmates of the house. Her place of abode is on the side of the Findley Ridge, having a beautiful view of Dahlgonega, and the report of the dynamite was distinctly heard by our citizens.

The woman believes it was Bobie, who was at one time the darling of her heart, but since a separation she has no use for him and refused to let him in the house that night. Soon afterwards the dynamite exploded near the chimney, and the once loved one's voice was heard no more.

Built Him Up.
Mr. J. B. Lewis, of Atlanta, Ga., had severe dyspepsia. Physicians and all other remedies failed to cure him. He tried Dr. Price's Dyspepsia Remedy, and afterwards wrote: "The first dose gave relief. A gentleman in Acworth says he owns a gold mine worth two hundred dollars per ton, and has written to Mr. Henry Roberts and G. W. Jenkins of Dahlgonega, to come down and find the vein for him.

Three hales of cotton is the most any of our oldest citizens can remember ever seeing in Dahlgonega, although there is a great deal of the staple article raised in the county but it is all hauled to the city of Gainesville.

Judge Brittain brought in a very large turtle the other day which he caught out at his farm. The little girl of Mr. Harbison, after inspecting it and being asked by her grand ma what it was, replied, "I jest it is the doil!"

The Clerk of the Superior Court went out "dukk" hunting Saturday and stayed two days. Our county official is following the example of the President in this respect, but nevertheless, he never neglects his business.

Mr. J. S. Chester was dishing in his field near the foot of the Blue Ridge the other day and found a pine log, perfectly sound, where it had been covered up probably a century or more, for the farm had been in cultivation for more than seventy-five years.

Sheriff Brooksher escorted one of his prisoners, Ans Daniels, colored, who is charged with cheating and swindling, down to Atlanta Monday, so that he could go before the grand jury of the U. S. court as a witness, by order of the Judge.

The Rev. W. A. Boyd preached an interesting sermon to a large and attentive congregation at the Baptist Church Sunday. There being no services here in town, he came an unusually large number of people to be present. Near 600 was collected for missionary purposes.

It has been reported for some time that Mrs. Henry Adams, residing in the outskirts of the town, was running a blind tiger. A visit to her house by U. S. Deputy Marshal Harbison proved the report to be true on last Saturday night. He heard several voices in the house while standing upon the outside, and just as he was slipping up to the door to peep through an angle hole, a little girl appeared with a bottle in her hand to raise the Marshal stepped in and behold there stood four young men whose names we will not mention, for some of them have loving sweethearts that little dream of them even looking upon the wine that is red in the bottle, much less indulging in strong blockade whiskey, catching the liquor in bottles as it was being poured from a two gallon jug by the lady. Mr. Harbison's appearance somewhat retarded business for the evening, by removing the jug and its contents before all were waited upon and deplored out. The number of helpless little children standing around kept the woman from being arrested.

A regular meeting of the Sons of Rest will be held under the mulberry tree at the court house, on the second day of April next. A full attendance of the members will be expected as the election of officers will take place.

Charlie Anderson was fined one dollar and cost by Mayor Ingorsoll last week for some little fun done while he was under the influence of "high head." Charlie is a good friend to the officers, and has been a very liberal donor to the town government quite a number of times.

Mr. Warren Wholehel, Wills Garvin and a son of Mr. John Hutcheson, all of this county, left for the West last Sunday. Mr. Wholehel was up Saturday before last, exhibiting a twenty penny weight nugget dug out of the earth. Lumpkin county, which he intended carrying with him.

Two little darkeys, Pilgram Hamilton and Jala Myers, passed a few weeks the other day, after which they were fined $1 each and cost by the Mayor. Parents should look after such youngsters as these and give them a spanking every time they get into such rackets and the courts would soon get rid of these frivolous cases.

It is now a settled fact that Jim Lance, formerly of this county, was recently wounded by revenue officers while being arrested and lodged in Fulton county jail. Marshal Harbison returned from Atlanta last week and says the officials down there told him that it was no mistake about him being on hand. His pistol was shot from his hand at the time of his arrest.

Mr. A. M. Smith, of Greensboro, N. C., arrived in our city latter part of last week, and has been inspecting the various gold mines in this vicinity and seems very much pleased at what he has seen. Mr. Smith has traveled all over the West and took a notion he would not let the Lumpkin gold mines go unnoticed while out inspecting the country generally.

Elsewhere will be found a communication from Mr. J. B. Simmons correcting a statement made by one of our correspondents last week in reference to him being mentioned as a minister. Had we known at the time that it was for more sport and that Mr. Simmons was not a preacher, we would most certainly have left this particular item out, for we do not favor mixing fun and church matters. We wish to impress upon the minds of our correspondents again that we do not go much on "funny" matters. It is the news we want. If any one in your neighborhood is going to "see his best girl," let him alone and say nothing about it. You might break up a match. When any one marries, then it is the proper time to announce it.

Mr. W. H. McAfee, who is mining in White county, was down this week exhibiting some of his ore which shows much gold. He states that he has out now about fourteen tons ready for the mill, which he is satisfied will turn out twenty dollars to the ton.

The subject for the morning's sermon at the Methodist Church Sunday will be "Justice—everything cost something, and every man should pay for what he gets." Let everybody go out, especially our delinquent subscribers, and hear what the minister has to say.

Mr. W. L. Wallace, who has been book keeping for Capt. P. W. Hall for some months, will take his departure for Jacksonville, Fla., where he has a position in a railroad office. Mr. Wallace has made many friends since he has been in Dahlgonega, all of whom regret to see him leave.

A letter from one Creek is crowded out of this issue on account of its length but will appear in our next. Every one who has been misrepresented by any of our correspondents, may rest assured that they will be allowed to set themselves or their friends right. We hope our correspondents in the future will guard against making incorrect statements about their fellow men.

We call attention this week to the ad. of J. E. Murphy, Gainesville, Ga., to be found on the first page of to-day's issue. Mr. Murphy has just opened up his spring stock of goods consisting of dress goods, clothing, domestics, shoes and all kinds of groceries at such low prices that they will surprise the purchasers. It is useless for us to comment further as this gentleman's manner of doing business is too well known by those of our readers visiting Gainesville.

There is a large wild cherry tree growing in the office yard, and we have an idea of making up a lot of fillers to be used as an appetite producer as soon as the apple comes in, provided we can get the suitable chemicals. It is the very dish for poorly paid country editors who have to economize. By doing this we will be able to keep alive until our potatoes get big enough to roast, and thus escape the clutches of the overseer of the county poor house.

Miss Nettie Mitchell, of Richmond, Va., cousin of Col. W. A. Charters, and a particular friend of Col. W. P. Price and Capt. Woodward, Editor of the SIGNAL, is the guest of Col. W. P. Price's family, having arrived in our village on the evening of the 15th inst., accompanied by Mr. Charters and lady on their return trip from Eastern cities. Miss Nettie was here eight years ago on a visit, and is in Dahlgonega again to share the hospitalities of those who love her. Her father's house during the war was a great rendezvous for sick and invalid soldiers, many of whom will remember the kind acts of the two best old people that ever lived, who have passed away to receive their reward in the home of the soul. We wish Miss Nettie a pleasant sojourn here, and a safe return when her visit is over to the beautiful city of her birth, Richmond.

The Storm.

On Tuesday afternoon just as the sun was appearing brightly from the Southwest, it was not long before it was overhanging Dahlgonega accompanied by loud peals of thunder, bright flashes of lightning, much rain and some hail. The wind blew, trees began to sway and small houses trembled upon their foundations. Women were scared, children screamed and most every one believed the approach of a cyclone was near at hand, and many of those having cellars took refuge in them where they remained until the storm abated.

The storm passed over without any damage in Dahlgonega, but we learn that it was much severer a few miles above here. In many places in Crumley's district the trees of the forests and orchards were uprooted, fences were leveled to the ground and much destruction done generally. Mr. Dock Elliott's kitchen was blown down, his things scattered about and every dish broken except one cup.

Mr. John Calhoun said he had seen many a storm but nothing to compare with this one. He was returning home when it came upon him. Large trees began to fall around him and he had to hold to a sapling to keep from being blown away.

Two More Little Souls Made Happy.

Dahlgonega has had another runaway match but it is not likely to end in a kidnapping suit. For some time past David Franklin, a lad of seventeen summers, has been paying his respects to little Annie, (three feet high) daughter of George M. Sissum of Dahlgonega. At last David mustered up courage enough to ask her if she was willing to be his and wait on him through sickness until death, to which she answered in the affirmative, and David was so happy that he fell asleep. When he woke up and realized what had happened he went straight to Judge Thomas and told him to meet him and his loved one just after dark at the dug hill one mile from town on the left and make them man and wife. So at the appointed hour Judge Thomas, in company with the clerk of the Superior Court, went out and tied the knot, after which David gave a yell like some wild Indian and started off towards his brothers in Cane Creek district, chuck full of joy. Judge Thomas thinks it is the happiest couple he ever saw in his life. Next morning at the rising of the sun the bride and groom were noticed on the doorsteps of their kinsman singing:

I feel just as happy as a big sun flower,
That nods and bends in the breeze, etc. The father of the child says that he was opposed to the wedding but will commence no suit. He further stated that had they married at his house he would have given them a $1.00 supper.

Jones' Creek News.

The farmers are very busy preparing their land for another crop. Squire Swaley had a grubbing last Friday.

Mr. Mike Linfert, Jr., is preparing to ship a lot of different kinds of skins to market the fur of which is very profitable.

The beard of the gobbler recently killed by John Linfert, is said to be nine inches long.

The Clark boys are making many valuable improvements on their farm.

Some of our neighbors' children are suffering with a terrible cough. Mr. Jasper Pierce of Jackson county, paid us a short visit last week. We were sorry to hear of his wife being taken by a snake and receiving painful injuries recently.

Mr. James Gooch of Fannin paid uncle Sam a visit a few days ago. The chicken cholera has about ceased, which will be good news for Methodist ministers.
